

Monday—Opening Day.

And Now For

“Greater Reno”

It gives us very great pleasure indeed to announce that the opening of our new Reno store on Virginia street between First and Second Streets, will take place Today, October 20th. The doors will open at nine o'clock in the morning and remain ajar until ten in the evening. Good music will be furnished during the afternoon and evening and everybody will be welcome. You are not expected to buy—we want you to just come in and look over our store and stock and get acquainted.

On Tuesday we will be ready for business.

We hardly believe that the name of the John Breuner Company needs any introduction to the people of Reno. For over forty years the name has been prominently before the people of the Pacific Coast, growing more and more important as the years went by.

You, of Reno, have favored us liberally with your patronage in the past—sometimes coming to us in person, at other times sending your orders by mail.

But, Reno is growing and for some time we have realized that we should have a store in your midst.

And so, we are here.

Our new store occupies an entire new building on Virginia street. The show rooms are large and light.

The stock will consist of a complete line of furniture, carpets, rugs, linoleums, lace curtains and draperies.

In dealing with our customers here, the same broad, liberal policy, which has been so instrumental in our success in other cities will be adopted. We will guarantee perfect satisfaction or “money back” at any time.

Come Today—and bring your friends.

BIGGEST AND RICHEST

What Two Miniug Men Say About Tonopah Mines

J. H. Neven and M. T. Coates, who returned from Tonopah night before last, speak very enthusiastically about the new camp. They ascended to the 350-foot level of the Tonopah Mining Company's property and passed through drifts 1500 feet in the Mizpah property. They say that the values appeared to be high-grade throughout the entire length of the drifts.

The work that is being done is of a permanent character and large bodies of ore are being blocked out. Mr. Nevens says that it is the largest and richest ore body that he ever saw or heard of, and that the figures of production for the first year in the history of the camp evidences that Virginia City in its early days has been far surpassed.

These two gentlemen did not descend below the 350 level, but they saw ore coming up from greater depths that was of equal richness at least to that through which they passed.

Coming to the surface, they next entered the Salt Lake and Tonopah property and descended a 520 foot shaft in the Wandering Boy claim. In this property there splendid values on the 150-foot level and on the 500-foot level a croscut is being run to tap the ledge.

The next mine visited was the Fraction. In this valuable piece of ground a large ledge of rich ore has been sunk through to a depth of 400 feet. This has proven to be one of the best properties in the camp.

In the Montana-Tonopah property the miners are going down to the bowels of the earth. They have already cut several chutes of high-grade ore. The next working property is that of the North Star Tunnel Company, which owns several fine claims. Ore has been struck of good grade and all the leads in this ground are shaping into good values.

On the Valley View Mizpah waste dumps there are millions of dollars. This is the only place in the United States where ore carrying $50 a ton, gold and silver, is thrown aside.

Water will be got into the camp within the next thirty days and this innovation will greatly stimulate mining and milling operations.

Two Malefactors

Two prisoners were consigned to the county jail yesterday. One was named Brien. He was arrested for rolling a man in the alley back of the Palace Bakery. He was released from jail only the day before. Joe Coas was taken over the river for kicking a woman's trunk open and damaging the contents. The charge placed against him was malicious mischief. Officer Tatem and Travis made both arrests.

Held For a Rise

Truckee meadows ranchers have raised 1000 tons of onions this season and are holding them for better prices. They now bring $20 a ton, and may reach double that during the winter months.

Passed Examination

A telegram received in Carson last Saturday stated that James Oiding, one of Carson's brightest boys, had successfully passed the examination at Annapolis and is now a full fledged cadet at Uncle Sam's school.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mentionings of People as They Arrive and Depart.

ALL SORTS OF LITTLE JOTS

News Notes of Street and Town Too Brief for Headings

There are thirty-two prisoners in the county jail.

A pistol shot fired on Commercial street while it was crowded last evening created considerable commotion.

Organizer Sanders of the Woodmen of the World has gone to San Francisco. J. E. Taylor will receive an appointment as his successor.

The bridge across the Cochrane ditch on south Virginia street is in bad repair and is liable to cause an accident.

Mr. Bryan's Address

Arrangements have been made whereby the political speaking Friday evening next will not interfere with the Wheelman dance. William Jennings Bryan will arrive on the V. & T. at seven o'clock and he will address the citizens from that time until 8:45, when he will depart for the east. The grand march will be formed at nine o'clock, so that every candidate will have a chance to attend.

Prefers the West

H. M. Senseney has returned from a visit to his parents in Bloomington, Illinois. He spent two weeks in the east and is glad to be back again in the wild and woolly west where the sun shines and the air is fit to breathe. Mr. Senseney has lived five years in the west and says the "country suits him." In other words he is satisfied with the race in which he has cast his lot.

Another Freight Wreck

Last evening a freight train was derailed at Ware siding and several cars were badly broken up. The wrecker was summoned from Truckee, but it was five or six hours before the track could be cleared. Train No. 1 was behind the wreck.

On the Warpath

Last night an Indian was arrested by Officers Messley and Ferrel for flourishing a knife, razor and pistol. He drove all his countrymen out of the Indian village east of town and carved up a squaw in artistic fashion.

Filled Every Night

The Pullman sidetracked every day for train No. 3 is well filled every evening. It is a great convenience for the traveling public and a source of revenue for the company.

THE GRAND OPENING

Promenade Concert To-day and Evening in the Breuner Store

Today marks the beginning of an era in this city. Hitherto the confidence that many have felt in the town has not been fully evidenced. It remains for the firm of The John Breuner Company to come in and display the banner "Greater Reno."

This firm has leased for a term of years the huge Ryland building, the largest mercantile building in the city which has just been completed. The company will utilize the entire floor space, amounting to over seventeen thousand feet, at least three times the size of any other mercantile establishment in the State.

Carload after carload of furniture and house furnishing goods have been coming in and a small army of men have been busy unpacking and displaying the wares.

Now all is in readiness and this morning the doors will be thrown open. Beginning at 9 o'clock this morning the three floors of the Breuner Company will be thronged with sightseers. The Wheelmen's band will give a promenade concert during the morning and afternoon and during the evening the Eagle band will play.

The clerks of each department will show the visitors every courtesy. Goods will be displayed and explained to all, but no one will be requested to make purchases.

Let it be remembered that the John Breuner Company buys from no jobbers or middle men. Their goods come directly from the factories and are sold at prices that will surprise householders.

The stock of the firm is so complete that a man who is having a house built can go to the store and arrange to have his dwelling furnished complete at one order, down to the smallest detail.

The price is plainly marked on every article.

The hundreds of visitors to the store today will learn that for themselves.

The New York & Nevada Copper Company of Copper Flat added another claim to their large block this week by purchasing the Republican mining claim and turning over to the local owners $3000.

TO OUR PATRONS

THIS Monday morning's edition of The Journal is published at the special instance, request and expense of the John Breuner Co., of San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton and Reno, who will open up their mammoth furniture establishment on Virginia street between First and Second street, today. The Journal advertisers and readers are indebted to that enterprising company for the issuance of this extra edition.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

"HERE AND THERE" department of the Bookman is a very striking paper on "The Political Situation," by H. M. P.—striking because of its free lance quality and keenness of cut, its frank admission and its bold claims. The writer essays the role of critic, judge, prophet and satirist, and appears with brilliancy in each capacity. He tells us President Roosevelt is honest, vague and green, that he thinks he will do something against the trusts, but that he has no clear conception of his own aims and that he can expect nothing in the way of aid from his own party. "His own honesty and sincerity," writes H. M. P., "are precisely what is deceiving the majority of the American people. For this majority will elect him to succeed himself because they believe in his intentions, and do not stop to question his capacity for transforming these intentions into facts."

The writer declares the certainty of Roosevelt's nomination and election but prophesies a Republican downfall in 1908 when the issues will be the same opposition to the tariff and the trusts and the futility of Roosevelt's efforts, will be recognized. "Then," the article goes on to say, "the great trust issue will be fought with blades of steel and not with swords of tin." It seems to us that the writer here minimizes unduly what the American people should be able to learn in the next two years. If Roosevelt is honest, as we will concede, and if he has realized, as the writer tells us in the paper, that very little can be expected from Congress, surely by the time he again stands as a candidate before the people, that people should be able to realize finally what H. M. P. emphatically states, that no Republican will ever touch the trusts. As to the constitutional amendment, we assume that no importance whatever attaches to that suggestion.

The article arraigns the Democratic party as the stupid party, and in running over the campaigns from the Civil War to 1900, it cannot be denied that the mistakes of the Democracy loom up significantly. Political mistakes, like personal blunders, however, have not the power to ruin solely and apart from other influences and causes, and we may feel assured that no one of the errors so jauntily pointed out in this paper brought the Democratic party to defeat at any time. It is easy to say and to see now that the issue of the trusts was the only issue that could have brought success to Democracy two years ago, and perhaps six years ago, but it can also be said that during those years there never was a time that the Democratic party was not with the people against the trusts, and that interest in other issues never weakened that bond between party and people. The Democratic party, whatever its mistakes may have been, has always had a conscience, and that conscience has kept for its aim the good of the people. Under all of the impulses and influences that have drawn the masses this way and that, a recognition of that fact has always lain in their hearts. As their rights and powers become more clearly defined in the increasing study given these subjects, the people will more and more surely turn for aid against the trusts that kill to their old and tried friend, Democracy.

JUDGE HAWLEY'S POVERTY

THE voters of Nevada will not consider the fact that Judge Hawley is a poor man, such a serious offense, as the Newlands' press seems to. It appears to be a mystery how a man can hold a high office of trust and still remain a poor man.—Carson News.

The News fails to adduce any proof that Judge Hawley is a poor man beyond its own bald statement. While it is pretty certain that he owns no taxable property in Nevada, he may have millions invested in California or other States. It is no offense for the Judge to be poor, neither is it a crime to be wealthy. The poverty or wealth of Judge Hawley or Mr. Newlands is not an issue in this campaign. Both are able, conscientious gentlemen and their wealth or poverty cuts no figure. The fight is one of principles and if Judge Hawley was as rich as Dives, or as poverty stricken as Lazarus, the principles he advocates would not be any more acceptable to the people of Nevada. The News will make no votes for Judge Hawley by pleading the poverty cry.—Elko Independent.

J. M. LYNCH has retired from the editorship and management of the White Pine News. The paper is now published under the auspices of The White Pine News Publishing Company, with W. T. Stewart as manager.

It will continue to be run in the interest of the manager's Senatorial namesake, W. M. Stewart.

ECONOMIC EQUALITY

IF EVERY man's possession were limited to what he could save from his own productions there would be no millionaires in the land, for no one could ever become a millionaire from such savings in the world. Notwithstanding the great praise bestowed upon "honest labor," hard work in the production of wealth never made a man very rich. Whatever hard work the possession of millions may represent is the work of planning and scheming to get possession of the wealth that other people have produced. Give a man the best farm upon the earth, the best implements ever made and the best team that ever pulled a plow, and how many thousand dollars worth of wheat could he take to market in a year? Not very many. And yet there are a number of individuals in this country today who count their annual income in many millions of dollars. Where do these millions come from? They come from the labor of those who toil in the fields and factories, in mines and workshops, on ships and railroads.—Age of Reason.

IT IS the duty of every Fusionist to vote their party legislature straight. We cannot afford to have it said that Nevada has elected a Republican Senator or Congressman.—Lovelock Argus.

THE HOME THAT THE RENO WHEELMEN WILL OCCUPY

(By John C. Silver)

The Ren Wheelmen's Club, one of the strongest and most popular athletic organizations in the State of Nevada, and I might say on the coast, has undertaken the erection of a large and up-to-date club house on Chestnut street, between First and Second. The new club house will be the first of its kind ever erected in the State, and will contain everything possible for the comfort and convenience of the members.

The building proper will be 140 feet long and 70 feet wide, including a large substantial porch on the front 12 feet wide by 36 feet long. The front portion of the building will be two stories high, and extend back 24 feet. In this portion of the building will be the meeting room, card room, pool and billiard rooms, bath rooms and ladies dressing room.

Upon entering the hall from the front door one finds himself in a large hall way, 12 by 24 feet. A door to the right will admit you to the regular business meeting room and library, where the members can go and find all the leading dailies of the coast, including all the home papers, and the prominent magazines and periodicals, such as Munsey's, McClure's, Harper's Weekly, Outing, Cosmopolitan, Review of Reviews, Success, Judge, Puck, Collier's Weekly, Scientific American, etc. A good sized library, formerly the property of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard, adorns the reading rooms, and is very extensively used by the members, although it is slightly out of date. It is hoped that many additions will be made to the library when the club is installed in its new quarters. The dimensions of this room are 24 by 25 feet.

To the left from the hall are situated one large dressing room and six smaller ones to be used in connection with the plunge bath. The plunge will be 20 by 40 feet, adjoining the bath rooms, and will have a concrete bottom on a gradual slope from three feet to seven feet deep. This depth can be raised to eight feet or lowered to four or five as desired. The water, for the present, will be heated by a large heater situated in the basement adjoining the tank. Later on it is the intention of the club to bore for hot water in conjunction with the Nevada club, which adjoins the Wheelmen property on the south. The tank will be supplied with swinging ropes, etc., to assist the new beginners in learning to swim.

A large stairway also leads from the entrance hall to the second floor, where are situated the pool and billiard room, 28 by 24 feet, on the right, and on the left the card room, 21 by 24 feet. When the hall is being used for a dance the billiard room will be turned over to the gentlemen as a hat room, and the card room, with laboratory attached, will be used by the ladies as their hat and cloak room, and will be fitted up with looking glasses and other conveniences.

The main entrance to the dance hall and gymnasium is also from the main hallway. The dimensions of the dance hall will be 107 feet long by 50 feet wide, with floor of the finest maple to be obtained. Exit from the hall can also be made through a large double door in the west end or by a side door on the north, which makes exit perfectly safe in case of fire. This portion of the building is but one story, ceiling 20 feet high, with a plain truss ceiling. This hall will be by far the largest dance hall in the State, and will fill a long felt want in that line.

A door to the left will admit you to the banquet hall, 65 by 20 feet, with a kitchen adjoining on the west 12 by 20 feet. The banquet hall and kitchen will be supplied with tables, stove and cooking utensils, and will be modern in every respect.

A balcony 7 feet wide and running the whole length of the dance hall will afford much pleasure to those who merely go to look on. It will be on the south side of the hall.

The basement will be 48 by 20 feet, and will be used as a store room for fuel and contain the furnace which will heat the water for the tank and supply the steam for the radiators, with which the building will be supplied.

The thirty feet to the south of the building will be used for outdoor exercise such as hand ball, tennis or bowling alley.

The building will be hardfinished, with wainscoting finished in the natural pine, with the exception of the ceiling of the gymnasium.

The Wheelmen's new home will cost, without furnishings, $9,407.60. The club has already received a most generous offer from Mrs. Moritz Scheeline, mother of the club's little mascot, to furnish the new club house with chairs.

The method of raising the necessary funds for this big undertaking is as follows: The club has formed itself into a corporation, and sells stock to members only, at the par value of $1 per share. All stock is to be redeemed by the club at its option, and no member is allowed to hold more than one thousand shares. The club will pay rent to the stockholders for the use of the hall, and in that way the money invested will draw a good rate of interest for the stockholders. In the neighborhood of five thousand dollars have already been subscribed, one thousand of which has been taken by Mr. Newlands. The youngest stockholder is Harry Scheeline, the club's enterprising little mascot, who has ridden the opening event of all the races the club has won with the exception of the one at Sacramento two years ago. Harry is but nine years of age, but he holds seventy-five shares of Wheelmen stock.

The work of the club house is well under way; the foundation has been completed and the carpenters are now at work. The building will be turned over to the Wheelmen some time in February.

The Advertising Space in This Paper Donated by Bruener Co.

Every reader of the Nevada State Journal knows that an edition of the paper is not printed on Monday mornings. We have deviated from the regular course and now print The John Bruener Company Special Edition of the Nevada State Journal. The John Bruener Company has purchased every inch of space in this Special Edition.

The advertisements of their competitors together with those of others that appear in today's issue are paid for by The John Bruener Company.

This shows to a certainty the broad-mindedness of this Company.

The Iroquois Club Endorses Ticket

The Iroquois club held a regular meeting at their hall last Friday evening. A large number were present and able and stirring speeches were made by several of the members and the club, which numbers about one hundred strong, then passed the following resolution, unanimously:

Resolved: That the Iroquois Club of Reno, Nevada, endorse, without reservation or exception, the Democratic-Silver State and County ticket from the Hon. Francis G. Newlands down to Constable of Reno Township.

DELMAR, Oct. 19.—The statement telegraphed the Carson Appeal that the lights were put out at the Democratic speaking at Delamar purposely is untrue. The cause was that the dynamo belt flew off. It was put on as quickly as possible.

The charge does an injustice. A copy of this has been sent to the Carson News, Carson Appeal and Reno Gazette.

STATE NEWS.

There are now 238 names registered in the town of Ely alone. Registry Agent Weber says he expects the number to reach 250 easy. At least another 100 will be registered at Lane City and Copper Flat.

A new double compartment shaft was begun at Copper Flat this week, under the management of J. A. Taylor, who, we understand, has charge of all the contract work for the company. The new shaft is situated on top of the small uprise between the present hoisting works and the boarding house and shall be used exclusively as a working shaft, through which the ores will be hoisted and transported to the smelter.

J. R. Leask, H. A. Mackey and J. J. Lavoska, contractors employed by the Colorado Iron Works, arrived here this week and immediately began formulating plans for the erecting of the New York and Nevada Copper Company's smelter at the Keystone. Their company has charge of the building, placing of the machinery and putting in successful operation the entire plant.

Tom Coan and family have returned to California where he will be engaged in the development of one of the rich California dredger propositions. Tom owns a controlling interest in 1600 acres of placer upon which the Merritts have obtained an option. Four dredgers will be in action before long. In leaving the canyon a loss is felt, for it is very seldom that men of such extraordinary ability as Mr. Coan possessed, remain outside of the line of promotion. You will always be remembered in camp, for the good advice given, kindly words spoken in the interest of the future of the mines.

JOHN BREUNER, SENIOR.

Who Established the First "Breuner Store" in 1858.

It was in Sacramento, the present capital of the State, that the foundation was laid for the great business now conducted under the name of The John Breuner Company, by John Breuner Senior, one of California's earliest pioneers. This was in 1853, forty-four years ago. For years, during the early days of California the growth of the business was slow, though steady. But during the past twelve years the advance of the business has been phenomenal. Today the company conducts immense establishments in Sacramento and San Francisco, occupying seven large buildings. In San Francisco, in addition to the seven story Market street store, another large seven-story building is being erected for the company on Geary street. Still another store was opened in Stockton, California, on October 6th. Thus, with the Reno branch, a chain of stores in California and Nevada's most important cities will be established. The present heads of The John Breuner Company are John and Louis F. Brenner, sons of the original founder of the house. J. C. Leopold, formerly of the Sacramento house, will manage the Reno store.

The opening of the company's Reno store today will be quite an event. The entire day and evening will be given over to receptions. Music will be furnished in abundance.

Thoroughbred Tramp Will Visit Reno

"A Thoroughbred Tramp" is like all other thoroughbreds, the real article. At the termination of the performance of "A Thoroughbred Tramp" in New York City recently a well dressed Chinaman dashed breathlessly into the stage door and interrogated the doorkeeper. "Were Hop Li?" "What Hop Li?" "Hop Li in play?" "In his dressing room, I suppose." "Were dressing room?" "I'll show you." Accordingly the Chinaman was shown into the dressing room of the actor who played the part of "Hop Li," and as the door closed behind him the actor who was sitting with his make-up and wardrobe still on him minus his wig, faced the Celestial. "Were Hop Li?" the Chinaman inquired. "Right here, I'm telling you." "You no Hop Li, you Melican man!" The actor turned to his dressing table, and picking up his Chinese wig faced the mirror and placed it on his head, then turning, he faced the Chinaman.

John gazed at him speechlessly a moment, then seizing his hand let flow a string of Chinese that would have confused an expert interpreter. The actor let him babble on for a few moments, then placing his hand to his head slowly removing his wig—the flow of language ceased, the Chinaman stood aghast. Slowly he backed out of the doorway, then stood a moment; "You no Hop Li, you damn lie!" The door slammed and the Chinaman was gone.

Interesting Meeting at Washoe City

One of the most successful and enthusiastic political meetings of the campaign was held at Washoe City, Saturday evening. Quite a crowd accompanied the local candidates on the special train and everybody at Washoe turned out to give the candidates an enthusiastic reception and had a big bon fire going when the train pulled in.

Smith's hall was packed when the chairman, Seth Longabaugh, called the meeting to order and introduced Nate Roff as the first speaker.

H. R. Cooke and P. A. McCarran, Fusion candidates for the Assembly, in turn addressed the audience and speeches were also made by P. N. Packard and E. A. P. Johnson. The issues of the campaign were ably and eloquently presented by the various speakers and the audience responded with liberal and hearty applause. Three cheers were proposed at the close of the speech making, which were responded to with a vim which shook the rafters.

The hall was then cleared and almost the whole party spent several hours in the dancing which followed. Washoe valley can safely be counted on to roll up almost an unanimous vote for the Fusion ticket and especially for the legislative nominees and Congressman.

"Hearts of Oak" Next Monday

The great success of the domestic plays written by Jamaica A. Herne is due chiefly to their remarkable fidelity to life. "Hearts of Oak" and "Shore Acres" have their scenes laid on the rugged coast of the New England shore and the characters are lifelike delineations of men and women and children who were actually known to the author.

Year after year "Hearts of Oak" and "Shore Acres" have done a remarkable business and this season is proving no exception to the rule. Equipped with a wealth of realistic scenery and effects and played by an exceptionally talented company of actors and actresses "Hearts of Oak" will be seen at the opera house Monday night.

AETNA MINERAL WATER

(Bottled at Aetna Springs, Napa Co., Cal.)

There are so many kinds of mineral waters on the market, and all claiming to possess healthful properties, that it is difficult for a person to make a choice.

When we consider, however, that AETNA has stood in the front rank for years, has been a favorite in households as well as public resorts, and has been recommended by eminent physicians, who use it themselves and prescribe it for patients, there should be no question in the matter of selection.
